

National Seminar

On

"Role of Fast Track Court, Special Courts in Delivering Justice to Women."

About Chanakya National Law University

In the State of Bihar, where the seeds of the earliest republic were sown and the crop of democracy cultivated, a need was felt by the government for a university that would provide quality legal education and strive to raise national legal standards to a competitive international level and promote legal awareness in the community, which will lead to the realization of goals embodied in the Constitution of India. Thus, on July 15th, 2006, Chanakya National Law University at Patna came into being under the guidance of its Vice-Chancellor/Pro-Chancellor, Prof. Dr. A. Lakshminath, former Dean and Registrar, NALSAR University of Law, Hyderabad. CNLU was established under the Chanakya National Law University Act, 2006 (Bihar Act No. 24 of 2006) and included in sections 2(f) & 12(B) of the U.G.C. Act, 1956.

About Child Rights Centre

The Child Rights Centre is a multidisciplinary, research-oriented centre of Chanakya National Law University. Its perspective is to provide integrated technical support to different layers of institutional governance at local, state, and national levels to protect child rights through Knowledge Management, Human Resource Development, and System Strengthening. To this end, the Centre seeks to facilitate research support and logistical back-up to the statutory processes concerning the protection of children and provide complementary support to different stakeholders involved in the child rights paradigm. In addition, it seeks to aid the institutionalization of best practices through research, collaborations, training, review, policy suggestions, field research, thereby improving and access to justice for children and promoting research, advanced learning and, advocacy and community action to strengthen child rights laws, policies and practices in Bihar and India.

About National Commission for Women

The National Commission for Women was set up as a statutory body in January 1992 under the National Commission for Women Act, 1990 (Act No.20 of 1990 of Govt. of India) to review the Constitutional and legal safeguards for women; recommend remedial legislative measures, facilitate redressal of grievances and advise the Government on all policy matters affecting women. The Committee on the Status of Women in India (CSWI) recommended that a National Commission for women be set up nearly two decades ago to fulfill the surveillance functions to facilitate the redressal of grievances and accelerate women's socio-economic development.

About Seminar

The event's main objective is to identify the real issues that hinder the realization of the objectives visualized when setting up Fast track courts in India. To assess the support provided by state machinery in setting up and operating Fast track courts in their states and to check and impart awareness to stakeholders. It also suggests ways to make the Scheme for women more successful.

Objectives of the Seminar

- Creating and assessing awareness among participants about the objective and utility of special fast-track courts.
- To facilitate the exchange of ideas about the problems encountered by state machinery in setting up Fast track special courts for the quick and efficient disposal of criminal cases against women and children.
- An opportunity to critically analyze the importance of Fast Track Courts in Bihar.
- To identify the issues hindering the implementation of Fast track courts based on the opinions of legal luminaries.
- We look forward to collaborating to suggest measures that will improve the efficiency of the Fast track special courts and make the scheme more successful.
